

RAFA RUSSO

A petrified forest

FRIENDS ARE FRIENDS

Try a smile for me, dry your cheeks
You have cried long enough for him
He is gone, baby, that's a fact
But look around you and you'll know that

It's alright, baby, friends are friends
Some of the leave you and some others remain
It's alright, baby, friends are friends
Some of them leave you, some of them stay

Do you remember when you said
That nobody was gonna hurt you again?
Where's the girl that I used to know
Wild as a dream, hard as a rock

Try a smile for me, dry your cheeks
You've depended long enough for him
He is gone, baby, that's no lie
And though you hate it, you're still alive
It ain't no use wasting your time
Sitting by the telephone, staying up all night
Cause friends are friends, for what it's worth
Nothing more and nothing less
